

Your One-Stop Technology Solution Shop

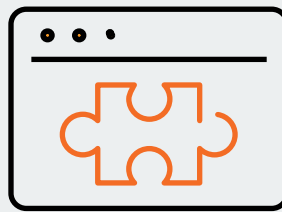

The Business Technology Advisor (BTA) program from Tigunia keeps your systems at optimum performance to improve your bottom line and help you make the best, most strategic business decisions.

Why do so many of our customers choose us when they already have ERP resources? Because your evolving business technology isn't just one system, it's a complex combination of infrastructure, services, vendors, reporting, and intelligence data that you rely on.

The BTA program from Tigunia makes it easy and affordable. This proactive, collaborative, and holistic service exists to help with all the integrations, workflows, and processes that weave your entire business together. This means long-term engagement and forecasting for your organization.

Collaborative integration to help manage your business

Right-sized solutions to solve specific business challenges

Affordable options for every situation

High-level deliverables create a roadmap to success.

Proactively tackle all your business obstacles using technology when necessary. The BTA proactively collaborates with your team to deliver on and service any need you may have. The customization is limitless and the solutions are unique to your business.
